

Commercialisation Mentoring / Directorships

Is your business ready for an independent mentor or non-executive Director to help you through the next stages of commercialisation ?

Vandis brings extensive real-world experience both mentoring and as a Board Member in taking start-ups and growing businesses to the next stages of successful operation, product development, organisational growth, funding, merger and sale.

Engaging on a formal mentoring or directorship basis provides structured, pre-planned supervision and mentoring sessions with key staff, stakeholders and executives to guide you through your planned and unplanned growth initiatives and issues.

A commercialisation mentor or directorship role is created through an appropriate retainer arrangement to engage expertise in a combination of pre-planned and ad-hoc basis.

The ongoing nature of the relationship helps to provide a stability of input for strategic approaches, governance practices and personal ad-hoc support for the involved staff.

For many companies, the involvement of Vandis can help to provide an appropriate face of technology leadership to an external audience – raising the profile of the company to support governance and/or funding objectives.

Call in the strictest confidence to discuss how to organise a suitable arrangement for your business.
