

Commercialisation Angels

Angel investors (unlike venture capitalists) bring not only their money, but their expertise, contacts and energy when taking an equity stake in a synergistic business relationship.

As commercialisation angels, we look for technologies or organisations who we believe are appropriate and ready for the next stage of growth built on synergy with the skills, contacts, commercial opportunism and passion which Vandis can bring to the situation.

We will meet with you, in the strictest confidence to discuss your concept, opportunities and aspirations.

Based on our experience we will develop a plan to make a contribution to your future. To save our time and yours, we will only take on an Angel engagement if we feel that we can make a genuine difference.

If we believe that the opportunity falls within our criteria, we will produce a customised proposal to take an active involvement in your next stage of growth and success.

Where possible Angel engagements are organised on a success basis. In this structure we receive payment only when we have achieved tangible outcomes.

Call in the strictest confidence to discuss the opportunities for taking your business to the next stage of growth.
